But the best defense of lawns is that they invite PEOPLE into a landscape. They are invitations for picnics, sun-bathing, summer naps, impromptu ballgames, etc. The native meadow craze was not a landscape friendly to people. It is a landscape that confines people to the trails. Thanks for publishing this article.

A master practitioner gives us an entertaining tour of the historian's workshop and a spirited defense of the search for historical truth. E. H. Carr's What Is History?, a classic introduction to the field, may now give way to a worthy successor.In his compact, intriguing survey, Richard J. Evans shows us how historians manage to extract meaning from the recalcitrant past.
