Why God Made Cities By

"God invented the city." "If sin has twisted the city as it's twisted the family, and turned it into a place of pain and suffering just as it's done to the family, that doesn't mean we get rid of the city. We don't scoff at it or take pleasure in its troubles. We as Christians are called to redeem and rebuild the city."

The first cities God told the Israelites to build were called cities of refuge. Why? Because God had a purpose for the city. God knew that when a person was accused of a crime, someone could hunt them down and kill them. A city of refuge was a place to which you could flee and get a fair trial because the cities were the places of civilization.

(It seems as though God delayed flooding Earth for 120 years as His Spirit's message of righteousness was preached to a wicked world—Genesis 6:3; 2 Peter 2:5.) In the days of Abraham, God ultimately decided to spare the iniquitous city of Sodom, not if 50 righteous people were found living therein, but only 10 righteous individuals.

If churches want to reach young adults, business leaders, cultural influencers and the poor, then they have to be in the cities because that is where so many of them are living, he said. "The most unreached peoples in the world go to the cities," he explained.

God loves cities and Christians should too, says Tim Keller

The command by God to kill all inside a city is seen by many to be immoral and a demonstration that the Bible is not true. But, we must examine the issue in light of its context--its biblical context--not in light of present-day, non-Christian assumptions. If we want to see if it is moral or not, we must know which morals are in question.

Thou Shall Not Kill: Does God Violate His Own Commandment? by Rich Deem Introduction. The sixth commandment is "Thou shalt not kill." 1 Atheists claim that God violated His own commandment in ordering the destruction of entire cities, just to allow the Jews to have a homeland in the Middle East. The Bible confirms that God ordered the killing of thousands of people.

Thou Shalt Not Kill: Does God Violate His Own Commandment?

Answer: The cities of refuge were part of the distribution of the Promised Land among the twelve tribes of Israel. Only one tribe, the Levites, was not given land to develop. Instead, they were to be the priests of the Lord and the overseers of the tabernacle and all its rites and furnishings.

What were the cities of refuge in the Old Testament ...

Answer: God will cleanse the earth from sin; He will also, in deep sadness, cleanse the earth from those who would continue in sin. Then God will make a perfect new earth. The holy city will be earth's capital. Here the saved will live in joy, peace, and holiness throughout eternity.
